MILLION DOLLAR FIRE LOSS AT HOUSTON

Houston, Texas, May 20.—Damages amounting to nearly $1,000,000 resulted from a fire which broke out about 4 o'clock yesterday morning in the heart of the retail section of Houston.

It is believed the fire was caused by a short-circuited wire.

Two heavily tenanted office buildings were ruined, one of the largest retail furniture houses in the city was destroyed, three drug stores were swept away and the big store of the Goggin Music Company was wrecked.

Among the dozen of establishments which were in the path of the flames were millinery stores, moving picture theatres, art stores, candy stores, a photographic supply house and a large book store.

No one was seriously injured. Some of the firemen experienced narrow escapes.

EXCITING BALL GAME PROMISED FOR FRIDAY

Ada is not in any base-ball league, but next Friday at 4:30 a game will be played on the Normal field that will be far more entertaining than any league game would be. This exciting game will be played between the Elks and traveling men of Ada. Since the reputation of the two organizations are at stake, the teams will battle for their lives, and when once started it may require a series of games to settle the championship for 1912. The fans of Ada should divide up equally as possible and give both sides plenty of support and encouragement. Even in a dog fight, it is always more exciting if each combatant feels that he has some friends in the crowd, and in a ball game no team ever won if the entire bunch of rooters were for the other side.

The game is free for everybody. The line-up will be published as soon as completed.

TAFT AND CLARK STILL LEAD FIELD

NEW YORK TIMES THIS SIZES UP THE POLITICAL SITUATION. TAFT HAS IT CINCHED.

By the New York Times.

Washington, May 30.—On the face of the pre-convention returns, President Taft has 559 delegates, which is more than the 540 necessary to nominate on the first or any other ballot at Chicago. Included in the total of 559 Taft delegates are those who are instructed for him, those against whom contesting delegates will be pitted at Chicago, and a number of uninstructed delegates who at the time of their selection indicated that they would vote for President Taft in the National convention or pledged themselves to do so.

On the face of the same returns Roosevelt has 361 delegates. Practically all of these are instructed for him. His list of 361 also includes an allowance of seven from New York state and six from Idaho, who, while not instructed, are known to be for the Colonel's nomination. None of the delegates instructed for Roosevelt in districts where there are contests are included in this aggregate of 361.

On the face of the returns there are not less than 134 contesting delegates. More are to come.

There will be 1,078 delegates at Chicago. To date a total of 966 have been chosen. This leaves but 112 yet to be named. They will be elected in the next 17 days, most of them the next 10 days. Ohio, with 48 delegates, will hold primaries Tuesday. The Texas state convention completing the selection of 40 from the Lone Star state, will be held May 28, and the following day New Jersey will hold primaries to name 28 delegates. The campaign for delegates will close June 4 in the South Dakota primaries.

Champ Clark continues to be the leader in the contest for Democratic delegates. Up to now 756 delegates to the Baltimore convention have been chosen. Clark has 343 of these delegates on the face of the returns. This includes 22 of the 30 Michigan delegates, 14 of the 24 Tennessee delegates, 6 from Alaska and 1 from Maine, none of whom have received instructions, but have pledged themselves to Clark.

To nominate at Baltimore, the winning candidate must have two-thirds of all the delegates in that gathering, or 756 out of a total of 1,092 delegates. As 756 delegates have now been chosen, only 336 remain to be chosen, so that if Clark were to receive all of the remaining 336 delegates he would not have enough to be named on the first ballot. If he were to receive all of the remaining yet to be chosen, these added to the 343 now in his column would give him just 679 delegates and would leave him 77 short of the two-thirds necessary to name him on the first ballot. On the face of the returns Clark and Underwood will be masters of the situation on the early ballots. Clark with 343 and Underwood with 84 can now command 427 delegates.

This is 63 more than a third of the Baltimore convention, and therefore 63 more than is necessary to block the nomination of Woodrow Wilson or any other man, so long as Clark and Underwood cling together in command of the delegates now in their columns.

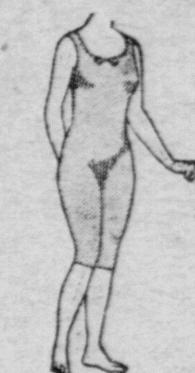

If Clark, as it stands now, were to receive Underwood's 84 delegates and New York's 90, he would lack 212 votes of having two-thirds. The same would be true of Underwood if New York's 90 and Clark's strength were swung over into the Underwood column.

Wilson, on the face of the returns, has 149 delegates. Wilson needs 580 more delegates to be nominated. He can not obtain them from among the states yet to select delegates, as there are only 336 delegates to be chosen. If Wilson were to obtain all of the 336 delegates yet to come, these, with the 149 he now has, would only swell his total to 485, which would 271 less than is necessary to nominate. To be nominated, Wilson would have to hold all he now has, capture all of the delegates yet to be named, and, in addition, win 271 delegates from Clark, Underwood, Marshall or others having votes in the convention, and every delegate of those yet to be chosen who does not go to Wilson means an additional delegate who must be found from among those now held by other candidates before he can be nominated.

REFUSED TO ADVERTISE

Therefore Aurora Man Was Known as "Man Who Stood Still."

Aurora, Ill., May 20.—The death of D. W. Stockwell, of this city, at Hewarden, Canada, Friday night, marked the passing of one of the quaintest characters in Illinois. He was known as "the man who stood still."

As owner of one of the biggest stores in northern Illinois outside of Chicago during the civil war, he prospered. After the war he failed to keep abreast of the times and the same goods which he carried then still adorn the shelves and show windows of the store.

Five years after the war he was still making a profit. In ten years more the place was a curiosity shop and has continued so. The hoop skirt, barber striped hose, jet jewelry and like antiquities continued a part of his stock.

In later years he was the only one who entered to place except visitors to the city. He did no advertising. He had about $10,000 worth of goods and settled down to wait for customers who never came. He was at business at 7 o'clock each morning and remained until 6 o'clock in the evening. He was 77 years old.

RICHESON SAYS HE IS READY TO DIE

Boston, May 20.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible; the quicker the better."

These words spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, to the Rev. Herbert H. Johnson, his spiritual adviser, yesterday expressed the mental condition of the condemned man whose tenure of life is now measured only by hours.

There is much reason to believe that he will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight tonight.

Reclining on a cot in his death cell Richeson talked long and earnestly with Mr. Johnson and the prison chaplain, the Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins.

"I do not want to sleep. I have so little time to live and so much I want to say that I must talk, talk," he said.

Part of the conversation was of meditative and religious nature and part was reminiscent. The prisoner counted incidents of his boyhood in Virginia and his college days at Liberty, Mo., furnished further topics.

Celebration Opens at Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., May 20.—Charlotte today opened her annual celebration in observance of the anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, a document said to have been promulgated here on May 20, 1775, nearly a year in advance of the declaration at Philadelphia. The celebration will last nearly the entire week, and is expected to attract thousands of visitors. The annual exhibition of manufactures, together with base ball games, parades, aeroplane flights, band concerts and other features of entertainment, make up the program.

Manufacturers in Session.

New York, May 20.—Representatives of the business interests of the country from nearly every state of the Union assembled at the Waldorf-Astoria today for the opening of the seventeenth annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers. The sessions today were devoted principally to executive business, but during the next two days the manufacturers will discuss a wide variety of subjects. Present economic conditions, and the developments during the past year in such vital activities as labor, politics, currency reform, industrial relief, and trade education will be given attention. Employers' liability and workmen's compensation will be exhaustively discussed, also the national eight-hour bill and the Clayton bill providing trial by jury in certain contempt cases. At Wednesday's session the election of officers will take place. John Kirby, Jr., of Dayton, O., whose term as president of the association expires, is not seeking re-election, but it is probable he may be pressed to serve again.

Prominent Visitors.

Major and Mrs. J. C. Cates of Ada, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. L. J. Green, near Shawnee.

Major Cates is a prominent Pontotoc county citizen, residing at Ada, where he owns substantial interests. It was a pleasure to have this prominent civil war veteran, continuing prominent in church and business affairs, call on his friend, Otis B. Weaver, of this paper.—Shawnee News-Herald.

CONFEDERATES HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the annual memorial service of the Confederate veterans was held at the Methodist church. The ever thinning ranks of the old soldiers was very noticeable when less than twenty of the veterans lined up and marched to the church. Some were on crutches and some were suffering from other infirmities of age, but it was plain to all that the fires of courage which inspired the boys of '61 had not in any way died out of their souls. Although it was in a sense pathetic to see the white haired old men thus assembled, it was also a lesson to the younger generation that should be well learned, for truer patriots never followed any flag than those who followed the Southern Cross into the very jaws of death on hundreds of battle fields.

Each pastor of the local churches had been invited to participate in the service, and the sermon was preached by Evangelist L. P. Law, whose father was a veteran. The sermon was both touching and impressive. He applied the warfare in which they had engaged to Christian warfare and made a strong appeal to all to take up the armor of the spiritual battle.

At the close of the service Mr. Dees, one of the veterans made a short talk.

For the first time in years no death was reported in the local camp for the preceding twelve months.

A SAMPLE OF A FINE OAT CROP

L. C. Lindsay left at the News office a bunch of oats from his farm at Ahloso, and which shows that the oat crop is most promising. Although just beginning to head the oats in question are three feet in height. Mr. Lindsey has twenty acres and says he never had a finer prospect in his life. Several of his neighbors also have oats as fine as his. Wheat is also looking as well as is possible for it to look, but corn and cotton are a little backward.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. About the warmest thing that has come this way lately is the first issue of "The Kumrid," a little bi-weekly published at Okemah for the purpose of combatting socialism. C. E. Guthrie is the editor, and he is just the man for the job. The little sheet is red-hot and the socialists of that section will have to devote some time to doctoring their own blisters instead of being permitted to lambast their opponents with impunity. The subscription price of the Kumrid is 50c, or 25c in clubs of three or more.

Flim-Flam Jones, the editor of the Ever-Uther-Weaker, Squeaky-Squeaker, says:

"Socialism would give the worker the full social product of his labor—no more and no less."

Now, Flim-Flam, why did you not go ahead and explain to your disciples that the meaning of your empty promises, when scrutinized, would listen something like this:

"Under socialism the worker would be given his empty money wallet after it had been gutted by the vast army of non-producers who must be supported by the real producers."—The Kumrid.

AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE

When Harry Rich, the daring Aerialist, who is to do a turn at the Empress Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, was gyrating on a trapeze on the top of the eight story New Phoenix building on West Broadway in Muskogee last Sunday afternoon, some fifteen hundred people gathered to see the free show. Rich used no net or other safety appliance, and only his quickness of eye and stoutness of heart prevented a fatal accident, should he slip while the trapeze was swinging over the street. When Rich balanced on his back with his head toward Broadway, he suddenly released his hold slipped away from the trapeze, and just as everybody below thought he was going swing to his death, he calmly caught upon his toes in the ropes holding up the trapeze, several men in the crowd below hid their faces while several women fainted. This act will be shown at the Empress theatre to-night, Tuesday and Wednesday, on the outside, free of charge at 7 p. m.

John Beard has an idea which it might be well to consider. In view of the recent decision regarding the non-taxing of lands claimed taxable by the state, he is of the opinion that every commercial organization on the east side of the state should raise a fund of several hundred dollars and send one or more representatives to Washington to press on Congress the necessity of removing all restrictions whatsoever. Of course that in itself would not make any of the land taxable, but it would have the effect of making transfer easier, and that act would make it taxable. In this way the bad effect of the decision would in a very few years be counteracted.

GAYNOR FAVORS MERIT SYSTEM

Orders Spirit of Civil Service Law Into Effect.

TECHNICAL COMPLIANCE ENDED

Favoritism, Influence and "Pull" of Every Description Have Been Done Away With in the City Government. Money Is Saved to the Public and Better Service Given.

It has been demonstrated, to the surprise of some people, that those who predicted that if William J. Gaynor was elected mayor of New York he would prove to be a "political tool" were bad prophets. Instead of catering to the politicians Mr. Gaynor has gone to the other extreme, and New York, once the most boss ridden community in the country, now has a more rigid enforcement of the civil service system than any other American city. The mayor is a good party man and believes in properly conducted political organizations, but it is one of his old fashioned notions that national politics has no place in purely municipal affairs. So, by his direction, the whole city government of New York has been placed on the merit system, and favoritism, influence and "pull" of every description have been done away with.

The change came about through the mayor's discovery, in the course of his searching investigation into all city departments, that the civil service law as it had always been enforced was open to evasion. Under the letter of the law, when an appointment was to be made, the civil service commission certified the names of the first three persons on the list, from which it was required that the selection be made. When it was desired to evade the law and reach some favored person who stood farther down on the eligible list the method was for the head of the department to pick out one of the three first named who could be "reached" and tell him that the appointment would be tendered him, but that he must decline it; that later on another place would be found for him that would be just as good or better, but that for the present he must stand aside if he wished to retain or win the friendship of the politicians. The person knew that if he accepted the appointment he would quickly find influences at work against him, so he invariably declined. If necessary the same performance was repeated with the next three who were certified by the commission, and so on down the line until the man who was to have the place was finally reached. In one instance a position went to a man who at the beginning stood fortieth on the eligible list. All of those who were ahead of him with proportionately higher percentages of efficiency were obliged to make way for him. The letter of the law had been observed, but its spirit had been outraged.

Following this discovery Mr. Gaynor issued an order to all of his heads of departments that all appointments, of whatever nature or description, must be made in numerical order from the list furnished by the civil service commission. He explained that this naturally would result in some injustices and unsatisfactory appointments, but they would be trifling as compared with the inequities of the old system. The effect of this sweeping mandate was to take the whole city administration out of politics at one stroke of the pen.

Under the old system all heads of departments were forced to devote one half of every day to interviews with politicians who wanted some one given a job or this or that policeman, fireman, street sweeper or other employee promoted, transferred or discharged. Now there is nothing that can be done for any politician, no matter how powerful he may be, so the department heads are no longer bothered by them but are left free to give all of their time to the city's business. Consequently they are able to watch things more closely, and the city is saving money and getting better service from its army of employees.

COOPER FOR COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS

W. M. Cooper authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Public Works. Mr. Cooper has shown himself to be a real hustler since coming to Ada, and is a man who always finds something to keep busy at. He can be relied upon to put forth the same energy in looking after the city's affairs, if elected. Mr. Cooper has had a great deal of experience in street, sidewalk and sewer work and as these are very important duties of the office, he would prove a valuable man in that capacity. Having made a success of his own business, he can be relied upon to make a success of the city's affairs. Of his candidacy he says:

"Having lived in your city almost four years, during which time I have been actively engaged in business, the greater part of which has been taken in the interest of the brick plant, of which I am a partner, and am pleased to say that the firm has built up a very nice business having shipped many thousand brick to the adjoining towns which has been the means of bringing many dollars of outside money into Ada.

During my residence at the plant, the same was thoroughly overhauled and put in shape so that my partner, Mr. Bones, could handle it very nicely, and I decided to move to town and do some contracting business which has been my occupation for the past year, during which time I have met with very good success, but not caring to follow this business longer have made up my mind to enter the race for Commissioner of Public Works. My reasons for so doing are that I have had considerable experience in the duties that fall upon this office and feel that I can handle the same in economical manner, and if I should be nominated and elected I assure the public that I will endeavor to fill the office as best I can, and at all times have the interest of the taxpayers in mind, one of which I am myself, as all I have is invested in Ada, and the brick plant, therefore I am for Ada first, last and all the time.

Soliciting your support I am yours very respectfully.

W. S. Kerr and wife and Rev. J. M. Brundridge returned from the Baptist convention at Oklahoma City this morning.

E. H. Lucas left this morning for Little Rock to tell the Arkansawyers about the good qualities of OK cement.

Tobe Wardlow, W. M. Cooper and Monroe Cotton returned this morning from a fishing trip to the Washita. They tell the usual story about catching all they could eat. They also say that a twenty-pound fish broke Cooper's line and got away, leaving him a sad looking sort of individual.

THE ONLY WAY

Many Ada Citizens Have Discovered It.

Just what to do when the kidneys are affected is a question that concerns both old and young. Weak kidneys neglected in childhood lead to life-long suffering. People of advanced years, with less vitality, suffer doubly. In youth or age, languor, backache, urinary irregularity, dizziness and nervousness make life a burden.

There is one remedy that acts directly on the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills owe their world-wide fame to the fact that they have cured thousands of cases of sick kidneys and cured them permanently. Follow the example of this Ada citizen.

Mrs. A. White, Townsend Ave., and Thirteenth street, Ada, Okla., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in the family with such good results that I can recommend them highly, although I never used them myself. One of my family had been bothered with backache and weak kidneys. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills brought complete relief."

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY AT STRATFORD THIS MORNING

Shortly after midnight this morning burglars attempted to blow the safe in the postoffice at Stratford, but being discovered before they could accomplish their purpose, they fled. Seizing a hand-car they made off down the O. C. towards Ada, but abandoned the car near Center switch and made their get-away. The sheriff and chief were notified, and the latter placed his night men at the O. C. crossing, but the burglars evidently took another route.

COMMENCEMENT SERMON AT THE NORMAL

The third commencement of the East Central Normal began Sunday evening with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. C. L. Brooks. The normal auditorium was well filled and the minister received close attention through out the discourse.

Mr. Brooks is a man thoroughly in touch with the spirit of the times and with the young people of the day, and his appeal to them was especially strong on this occasion. A large class will graduate this term, and his words were of strong significance to these young men and women who have fought their way upward to a good education and minds trained for meeting life in its fullest sense.

J. P. Norton, of Ada, says: My Kidney and Bladder trouble cured. I suffered severely with kidney trouble for two years, but thanks to Nyal's Kidney Pills, I am well and strong. I take great pleasure in recommending Nyal's Kidney Pills to my friends. You can get them from Gwin & Mays. Sincerely your friend, (Signed) J. P. Norton.

All who are looking for a splendid entertainment this evening should attend the Majestic theatre. Two splendid pictures will be shown. One of these is "A New Beginning" and the other a fine western drama, "The Goddess of Sagebrush Gulch." Tomorrow evening the leading picture will show how Washington crossed the Delaware at the time American independence hung in the balance.

This evening the DeSota will present three fine pictures, "Driftwood," "A Son's Ingratitude," and "A Plain Tale." Tomorrow evening "Christian Martyrs" will be presented. This shows scenes of the days when Christians were the objects of fierce persecution.

SUNDAY'S SERVICES AT REARVAL MEETING

Sunday was a great day for the revival meeting. The interest continues to grow at every service, and Evangelist Law is making his influence felt in every direction. Four services were held, one at the morning hour, the Confederate memorial service at 2:30 and because of the baccalaureate sermon at the normal, the last service was held at 5:30, at which time the evangelist delivered a powerful sermon on the "Trail of the Serpent." Services this evening at the usual hour.

Listen Friends.

I don't want you to read this unless you have confidence in my word. For two years I suffered from a sore on my shin caused by an ax cut. I tried a great many remedies with no results. At last I went to Gwin & Mays, they sold me a box of "Gwin & Mays' Shin Salve," and the second 25c box cured that sore absolutely. I trust that my experience may help other sufferers.

Yours very truly,
LEWIS KEETHLEY

WHEN BEER WAS SERVED AT COMMUNION

Holdenville, Okla., May 20.—The prohibition law in Oklahoma sometimes works handicaps, but the most unique situation attributable to the enforcement of the anti-liquor law yet recorded occurred here Sunday when the communion service of the Negro Methodist church was delayed nearly an hour and it was necessary in the end to use a substitute for wine.

The preacher did not have any wine. Sunday morning before the service began, it suddenly occurred to him that he had better send one of the "brethren" on a scouting expedition. He knew that sometimes the prohibition law was not strictly enforced and "lowed" that the brother could probably succeed in finding some of the "speerits" in one of the "boot-legging joints." Not that the preacher exactly approved of the method, of course, but the end justified the means, he told the scout.

"Scout" Does Not Return.

The service commenced. The preacher preached long and loud, meantime keeping his eye turned toward the door watching for the return of his wine scout. The brother failed to appear. The preacher kept on preaching. Finally he ran out of anything to preach about. Then he prayed. The congregation sang several songs and others were called up on to pray.

Finally, in exasperation, the preacher confided to his congregation that this was the day for the observation of the communion service and that the man he had sent to fetch the wine had not returned. He advised them to wait a few minutes as he surely would come soon. They accepted the situation at its best.

Beer as a Substitute.

After a seemingly interminable wait a negro almost out of breath, rushed into the church room and walked straight to the pulpit. A whispered consultation with the preacher followed. The preacher looked worried. Then he arose and announced:

"De brudder infohms me dat he has been unable to procuah any wine. He state dat he has been ev-ywheah dat looked promisin' an dat on account ob de cost ob wine, and de loss when de officers seize it, de bootleggers refuse to handle it. De bes' he has been able to do, breddern an' sisterin' is one bottle ob beer. Ah don' jes' zactly approve ob servin' beer wid de Lawd's supper, but ah guess it is de speerit ob de thing that counts most up yondah and dat we will hab to make use ob what de good Lawd sees fit to gib us. Ah kaint say as how Ah would disab-prob ob gin as a substitute, but de brudder states dat he kaint fin none ob dat bevarage eider. In conclusion Ah wants to warn you niggers against partakin' too strong ob dis beer, kase one bottle is all he cud git. De breddern and sisterin will now gadder roun' de altah and an' we will break de bread ob life an' wash it down wid de suds."

GIBSON FOR COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of George Gibson for the office of Commissioner of Public Works.

Mr. Gibson has been a resident of Ada for three years, and although he is not a man who pushes himself forward unduly, he has made a large circle of friends. While unassuming in his manner, Mr. Gibson is at the same time a man who has a head of his own and who deals with his fellows as he would have them deal with him. If elected, he can be relied upon to apply this rule to the management of his department.

He is not a stranger to the duties of this office, having been employed in public works for a period of fifteen years during which time he directed the operations of large numbers of men. He believes that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and that principle will govern him in keeping the streets in good condition at all times. If elected, he will devote his entire time to the details of a business administration of his office, and will never be found off the job. He does not pretend to know all there is to learn about town building, but he does know enough of the needs of Ada to make a good officer.

Mr. Gibson is a man with a good education, having received his training at the Soule University in Texas, later merged with the Southwestern university at Georgetown.

All he asks in this campaign is a careful investigation of his ability and qualifications to fill the office as it should be.

Just Like the Men.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—The holding of "harmony feasts" is no longer to be regarded as the special prerogative of the political leaders of the male sex. That the women can play the harmony game just as successfully as the men was clearly demonstrated today in the big banquet room at Rausher's, where several hundred women dined together and bowed and smiled and exchanged felicitous greetings, notwithstanding the fact that the political ambitions of a goodly number of them—or, to be more exact, the political ambitions of their husbands—are known to point in so precisely the same direction that a feeling of jealous rivalry might naturally be expected.

The women were allwives of democratic leaders of national prominence and the occasion of the gathering was a May-time breakfast in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Dolly Madison. Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house; Mrs. Henry D. Clayton, wife of Representative Clayton of Alabama, and Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood, wife of the leader of the majority in the lower branch of congress, took the initiative in bringing the women together for good-fellowship and mutual acquaintanceship. The most notable of the invited guests included Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Mrs. William J. Bryan, Mrs. Alton B. Parker, Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Judson Harmon, Mrs. Joseph W.

Folk, Mrs. John W. Kern and Mrs. Thomas E. Marshall, all of them the wives of men who have held or aspired to the presidency or vice presidency of the United States.
